- assisted 5,000+ international graduates transition from university into the Australian workforce
- our work readiness programs create a channel for exchange of international business practices between the host companies and graduates

Professional Year Program

- 44 weeks duration
- Coursework – 30 weeks part time job seeking and workplace skills training
- 12 week professional internship in industry
- Professional elements of the course from the professional associations
- Navitas is the only provider approved to offer the ACS, SMIPA and Engineering Professional Year Programs throughout Australia

Career outcomes of international graduates is interesting space particularly given the differences in each industry. Working in an area where migration, education and careers intersect some of my recent observations include:

- Contrast in preparedness
- Lack of awareness of post study migration and work requirements
- Under appreciation of part time/casual work experience
- Lack of industry knowledge including first job expectations
- Change in companies willingness to take on international graduates coupled with an increase company expectations on skills and knowledge
